The prospectors first met their murderers at the town of Luling in Caldwell County, and employed them as guides, Holland pretending to know all parts of the coast country. A few days before the murder the party passed through the towns of Columbia and Brazoria en route for the San Bernard River, which empties into the Guif of Maxico, a few miles west of the Brazos River.

Strong Opposition Developing to the Annexation of Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.-There is a seriou hitch in the Hawaiian treaty ratification. Facts that have leaked out of the discussion in the executive session of the Senate yester ent that the opposition, although numerically small is aggressive and defiant. Added to this the envoy of Queen Liliuokalani, Mr. Paul Neumann, is going to prove a stum-plan of campaign has the merit of sound policy at its back. He has no intention of making any serious objection on, but he will demand that the Queen and the people of the islands shall be consulted before the treaty is concluded. He has already seen many Senators and will ask for a hearing before a special committee before a vote is taken in the Senate. He will also invoke the good offices of Grover Cleveland to have the senate. All in absolute infill the new Ad. ine Senate. He will also invoke the offices of Grover Cleveland to have the matter held in abeyance until the new Administration comes into power, basing his request on the obvious fact that the Demo-crats will have the responsibility of carrying out the policy the Republican Administration has adopted with so much haste. He will make the claim that the revolution was promoted, aided and abetted by the United States Minister at Honolulu. That has been positively denied by the State Department, but, unfortunately for Foster and Stevens, the correspondence between the two is in evidence.

In his last letter of advice to the State Department Stevens calls attention to his letter No. 74, in which he set forth that the island planters had told him they would be willing to accept a bounty of $12 per ton. That letter was dated september, 1892, and it therefore proves that five months ago stevens was consulting with the sugar planters about the terms on which they would be willing to see Hawaii annexed to the United States. It is evident that unless stevens and Foster had been endeavoring to secure control of the islands, Stevens would not have written to Foster to tell him the result of his negotiations with the sugar In his last letter of advice to the State

SPRINGER'S RESOLUTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.—There is a strong disposition on the part of the House to not be ignored on the Hawaiian annexamatter. Representative Springer of llinois yesterday introduced the following hich was referred to the Committee on Yays and Means, of which he is chairman: Ways and Means, of which he is chairman:

- Whereas, A treaty providing for the annexation of the Hawaiian, Islands to the United States is now pending in the Senate, which treaty, if finally ratified by the Senate of the United States and by the Government of Hawaii and asantioned by Gongress, will require the Government of the United States to pay the public debts of Hawaii and the amounts due depositors in the Hawaiian postal savings banks, which may aggregate 33, 250,000, the sum of $20,000 per annum to the late Queen of Hawaii, and the sum of $10,000 in full to the Princess Kaiulanit and which ireaty will require the Congress of the United States within one year to extend the tariff and international laws of the United States to said islands, thus obligating this Government to pay to the Inhabitants of said islands a bounty spon the sugar which may be produced in said islands; therefore, Recolved, That the Frestden of the Lambard of the Congress of the Inhabitants of said islands a bounty spon the sugar which may be produced in said islands; therefore, Recolved, That the Frestden of the Manual of said may have abount of said when the said the said the said that the said the said that the sa

Villa killed Casedemund on account of alleged intimacy his wife and he induced Oilve and Vega to assist him in the murder. The body had fifteen terrible knile wounds in it. COMMITTED FOR FRAUD.

Henry Granville Wright, solicitor, were today committed for trial along with G. Newman & Co., limited, on charges of forgery and fraud in connection with the ruin of the Liberator Building Society. The evidence howed that for about ten years past Hob & Co., had conducted, with the connivance and assistance of Wright, a system of fraud and assistance of Wright, a system of fraudupon the Liberator Boilding Society. George Charles Kentis, who had been for many years cashier for Hobbs & Co., explained the methods which had been followed. False bills were accepted by Hobbs, purporting to be drawn by merchants who supplied timber and material to Hobbs. It was not intended to pay the money on the bills to the firms whose names were used, and these firms were unaware of their existence. The bills were accepted by Hobbs and given to bills were unaware of their existence. The bills were accepted by Hobbs and given to Wright, and the accounts paid by the Liberator Building Society, which financed the business of Hobbs & Co. Another method of defrauding the Liberator Society was by increasing the wage sheet and thereby receiving a large enemy. creasing the wage sheet and thereby receiving a larger amount from the society each week to meet the expenditure for wages than was actually necessary. Kentis did this by direction of Hobbs, to whom Kentis handed the greater part of the amount overcast, keeping a little himself. Another clerk named Balley, who was not in the secret, noticed the fraudulent overcasting and reported to Hobbs, who, in order to keep up appearances, had to remove Kentis, but procured him a place elsewhere at a larger salary. Although the amounts in-volved in the actual charges against Hobbs, Wright and Newman are comparatively small, the amount of loss to the Liberator Society through mismanagement and fraud probably exceeds £3,000,000 though the amount cannot be exactly known at present. The defendants were committed without ball.

RECIPROCITY THAT DON'T RECIPROCATE HAVANA, Feb. 23.-The beet production of Europe has ruined that market for cane ugar, and not a single cargo of cane sugar was shipped hence to the north of Europ the last year. A cargo of sor thousand tons of sugar has been dispatched o Galveston, Tex., and the steamers of the lorgan Line go loaded to New Orleans. Sugar making goes on and prices are steady and fairly remunerative, but the frequent fires have destroyed millions of arrobas of the standing cane, which will of arrobas of the standing cane, which greatly reduce the grand total of productin some places 100 acres have been dest In some places 100 acres have been destroyed in a few hours. The frequent fires are, no loubt, the result of carelessnes of employes who are using so much steam in the trans portation of the cane portation of the cane.

Payment of the recent export taxes on sugar is made under protest as it is considered to be in violation of the terms of the treaty with the United States when the duty was abolished on certain grades of raw sugars upon the agreement on the part of all export duties should be done This may lead to complicated lifficulties with the United States resulting in the annulling of the treaty with that Government. When the new administration goe into power March 3 this "reciprocity treaty will no doubt receive a general overhaulin and be brought into more reciprocal shape.

PANAMA CANAL LABORERS' STRIKE. PANAMA, Feb. 23.-A majority of the men bers of the Chamber of Commerce of this city are favorable to the granting of an extension in time to the Panama Canal Co. At the meeting to be held under their auspice they will probably express confidence in Mouchicourt's ultimate success in his efforts to reorganize the company and will petition the Government at I grant M. Mauge an extension of o time. Only foreign merchants doing business on the Isthmus, Colombian land holders and canal or railway employes will be allowed to have a voice in the public meeting, but the merchants will send committees into the streets and seek signatures to petit favoring the extension of the company French money is plentiful on the Isthmus.

There is a strong native element here that is opposed to the extension of time, and threatens to attend the meeting and interrogate the French agents. The preservation gangs along the line of the canal have been informed that their wages have been reduced to 40 cents a day wages have been reduce and they have struck.

Another fight started, in which everything not chained to the car was used as a weapon. The mob was finally beaten off. At Kittanning an other crowd of would-be-lynchers met the train. CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 28.—All the switchmen employed in the yards of the Chicago & West-ern Indiana Belt Co. struck last evening at 5 o'clock, because they were refused, as the say, an increase in wages from $45 and $55 to $55 and $65.

General Manager Thomas of the Chicago Western Indiana; and a committee of the switch-tenders held a conference and a com-promise agreement was reached. The switch tenders, however, declined to accept the report of the committee, and quit work without warning.

The strike involves the switch-tenders, tower men and crossing men and more or less embarrasses the Santa Fe, Grand Trunk, the Erie, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, the Monon, and all who enter the city over the Western Indiana tracks. Nothing has occurred to indicate a spread of the strike. Police in uniform were this morning de-tailed along the tracks of the Western Indiana road from the Polk street Depot to Thirty-first street, but there were no signs of trouble. The strikers showed no disposi-

A REMARKABLE INCREASE

increase of the amount of mail matter handled on the line now in operation. Before the introduction of the postal car the amount of mail handled in the district coverd by it averaged is 0 pounds a day. The service has been much improved, and a great deal of time is saved in delivering letters. A case occurred a few days ago in which a letter was delivered twenty two minutes afterlithad been mailed. The carriers now pursue a system that greatly facilitates deliveries. Under the old system all letters collected on their routes had to be sent to the post-office to be postmarked, and in many cases these latters were sent back to the collecting carrier, who would deliver them at houses but a short distance from the box from which they were taken. Under present arrangements the carriers hand letters deliverable on their routes to the clerk in charge of the Post-office car, who puts the postmark upon them, and at once takes them to their destination. Postmaster Harlow hopes to be able to extend the system. tend the system.

Mr. Bernheimer's friends are greelated over a speech made by Lieut.-John B. O'Meara last night at Teutonia I He mounted the platform after John I. Martin had just concluded a Bernheimer eulogy, and stated that his official position hardly warranted him in taking any sides in the mayoralty fight. But he told the voter that they should choose a business man with business ideas who would conduct the affairs of the city on a business. His basis. He further said that there was such a man among the four candidates, but that some one had been small enough to object to his candidacy because of his creed.

"Gentleman." said he, "this is all wrong. I am an Irishman and I am a Catholic, but I would not let that interfere for one moment in voting for a good man of different views after the fairness with which people of many creeds supported me." unded Out by Choosing Her bert of Alabama and Olney of Massa chusetts-The Former to Look After the Navy and the Latter to Care for the Law Department of the Government

LAREWOOD, N. J., Feb. 23.-Mr. Clevelan could now, if the weather were propitious, indulge in his favorite nastime of fishing. The great task of selecting timber for his Capinet has been completed. He announced last night that the task had been accomplished by the selection of Richard Olney of Boston to be his Attorney-General and Col. Huary A. Herbert of Alabama to be his Secretary of the Navy. Here is the Cabinet slate as it will go to the Senate:

Becretary of State-Walter Q. Gresham of Illiches of the six gentlemen first selected have already been given to the public. The public records of Mr. Herbert and Mr. Olney only are unpublished. Here they are:

Congressman Hitary A. Herbert of Alabama is now a resident of Montgomery.

He was born at Laurensville, 8. C. When se child his father moved to Greenville, But-ler Co., Ala. He was educated at the University of Alabama and the University of Virsinia, studied law and was admitted to the bar. He entered the Confederate service as captain and was in a short time promoted to the colonalcy of the 8th Alabama Volunteers. He was wounded at the battle of the Wilderness in 1864. After the war he resumed opractice of law at Greenville, Ala., until a practice of law at Greenville, Ala., until a, when he removed to Montmery, where he has since praced, He was elected to the Forty-h, Forty-sixth, Fofty-seventh, Forty-hith, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth and Fifty of Congresses and recleated to the Hity. st Congresses and re-elected to the Fifty second Congress as a Democrat, receiving 10,611 votes, against 2,681 votes for S. A.

the House Naval Committee, and is well fitted to administer the office of Secretary of the Navy.

Richard Olney graduated from Brown University in 1856 and Harvard Law school two years later. Twice he has been offered a years later. Twice he has been offered a Massachusetts justiceship, but declined, having the last offer from Gov. Russell. A few years ago he was the Democratic candidate for Attorney-General in this State. His name was mentioned to President Cleveland when the Chief Justiceship, now held by Mr. Fuller, became vacant. As counsel for the Boston and Maine, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroads he has been kept quite busy, succeeding the famous legal With. Sidney Bartlett.

Teht, Sidney Bartlett.
Mr. Olney has always, so far as is known here, amiliated with the Democratic party, except when the party in Masachusetts took up Gen. Butler and made him its candidate for

Gen. Butler and made him its candidate for Governor, Mr. Olney refused to support Gen. Butler. He makes a sacrifice financially in accepting a Cabinet position. Mr. Olney declined to talk to-night, but it is authentically known that he has accepted.

Mr. Olney was born in Oxford, Mess., in 1885. His only political venture was when he represented the Second Norfolk District in the Legislature in 1874. This was the year when there was a great overturn in State politics, Dr. Wm. Gaston defeating Gov. Talbot by nearly 8,000 votes. In Mr. Olney's district there was a close contest. In the face of the returns he was only five behind. A recount made the vote a tie, and on a new election he won the sent. His Democracy has been of the stanchest kind. Prominent men of the party declare the soliction to be one of the strongest that could be made.

HOW THEY STAND ON SILVER. Washington, D. C., Feb. 23,—President Cleveland is determined to have the Sherman silver law repealed. The manager of his campaign is making inquiries as to the attitude of new members. A private letter has Chairman Harrity acting for the Democratic National Committee. He first sends a query asking for a definition of the position occurried by a number of members of the next House. This communication has been sent only to those who are known to be sound money men. A blank form is inclosed and upon it the question is to be answered. What bearing this may have upon an extra session is interesting. Subjoined is Mr. Harrity's letter of inquiry. Among others Spoaker Orisp's position is wanted. The letter is as follows:

htt Dran Sin-Analysis of the vote in the House of Rapresentatives. Washington, upon the Andrew-Cate bill to repeal the Shorman ass, shows that there were fourteen Democrats, members of the present Congress who have been re-elected, and who did not vote on Feb. 9, 1893, on "ordering the previous question," and that there are seventy in the previous question," and that there are seventy in the previous question, and the there are seventy in the measure show will sit in the House of Representatives of the next Congress, who never voted upon the measure looking to the repeal of the Shorman act. It is important to throw what the probable attlitude of these almost plemocratic members will be toward a similar measure when offered in the next Congress. SECRETARY FOSTER AND ASSOCIATES on Account of the Hawaiian Event-Questions at Issue Between Great Britain and the United States-Composition of High International Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.-To-day wa originally named as the date of the meeting of the Behring Sea Commission of arbitration ed. This was rendered necessary by aington by the negotiation of the Hawatian matter. To-day Mr. Foster resigned from President Harrison's Cabinet for the purpose of assuming the management of the case of the United States before the international tribunal. Secretary Foster steamship New York for Southampton, pro ding then to Paris. He will be account panied from New York by Senator Morgan and Francois S. Jones, attaches; Mrs. J. W. Foster; Miss Cockrell, daughter of Senator Cockrell; Miss Halford, daughter of Private Secretary Halford, and Miss Williams, daughter of Gen. Williams. Junge Blodgett. one of the American counsel, will also sail from New York on Saturday per the Nor-of seven members. Two of them have been chosen by President Harrison in behalf of the United States, two by Queen Victoria in bethree at the mutual request of the United France, the King of Italy and the King of Norway and Sweden respectively. The two United States arbitrators, appointed last June, are Senator John T. Morgan of Ala-bama and Justice John M. Harlan of Kentucky, fourth ranking member of the Suprome Court. The two British Commissioners are Rt. Hon. Lord Hannen and Sir John S. D. Thompson of Canada. President Carnot's representative is Baron de Courcel, King Humpert's is Marquis Emilio Visconti-Venesta, and King Oscar's is Gregers W. W.

The counsel for the United States comprise Hon, Edward J. Phelps of Burlington, Vt.; Hon. Henry W. Blodgett of Chicago, and James C. Carter of New York. The British counsel include Sir Charles Russell, Sir Richard Webster and John Rigby of England, and Sir Charles Tupper of Canada. As will be observed, rarely has such an array of distinguished jurists and eminent diplomats been rathered together anywhere to strive for the

The controversy in relation to the fur seal fisheries in Behring Sea antedates by many years the purchase of Alaska by the United States. When Alaska was a province of Siberia, and under the Russian Government, the fishing of seal by non-Russian vessels within the seas bounded on the south by the Alautian Islands was prohibited. Some nations make no objection to this proposition, agreeing to the claim made by the Russians that the sea was a mare clausam. When the United States purchased Alaska from the Russians it was subrogated to all the Russian rights. It was not until the country had passed into the hands of the United States that the full value of the fisheries became apparent. Then it was that British vessels, principally Canadian, swarmed in the waters of the Aleutian Islands. Hence arose the controversy.

of the Aleutian Islands. Hence arose the controversy.

It was admitted that no foreign vessel had a right to fish within three miles of the shore, but it was claimed that the sea was part of the Pacific Ocean and not a closed sea, and that, therefore, all nations had equal rights of fishing in its waters. The seals, while swimming from their breeding grounds to the various islands, were slaughtered in immense numbers, and of these but a small percentage were saved.

The United States Government sent war vessels to the Alaskan waters to prevent

The United States Government sent war vessels to the Alaskan waters to prevent poaching, and many Canadian masters of sealing ships were arrested.

The English Government took the matter up and protested against the arrest of English saliors on the high seas. The United States Government replied by claiming that both by nature and treaty the waters around the Alaskan Islands constituted a closed sea, and that therefore the United States could regulate the fisheries.

This is the gist of the matter under nego-ine result of the proceedings of the fribunal of arbitration as full, perfect and finel settlement of all the questions referred to the arbitrators.

As will be seen there are five distinct questions to be settled by the High Court of Arbitration, but they are all involved in the last one, which calls for a definition of the right of this country, if any such right exists, to protect the fur-seal herd in the waters of Behring Sea, but there is, nevertheless, a certain advantage in having each of the other questions explicitly answered. For if it be admitted that Russia claimed and exercised an exclusive jurisdiction in Behring Sea while owning Alaska, and that all her rights passed to us unimpaired, and if Great Britain either tacity or expressly conceded Russia's claims, the final question must be decided in our favor, and in so far as any one of these propositions is solved to our advantage, it becomes difficult to prejudice us on the main issus. That, however, will not depend solely on the history of the case, nor on the general law of free seas, ner on such precedents as may be cited to sustain or oppose the extraordinary claim of an especial jurisdiction beyond the marine league limit.

When the tribunal reassembles Agents Foster and Tupper will deliver in duplicate to the arbitrators and to each other a printed argument showing the points and referring to the evidence upon which each depends, and each party will then support its respective case with oral argument of counsel. The decision of the tribunal is to be rendered if possible within three months from the close of argument on both sides. Allowing two weeks for argument and consultation, the decision would therefore be due about July 10 next.

two weeks for argument and consultation, the decision would therefore be due about July 10 next.

Among the speculations indulged in as to the verdict that will be rendered by the arbitrators, the general view is that the votes of the two United States arbitrators and those of the two English arbitrators will offset each other, and that the Frenchman will naturally side with us and the Italian with Great Britain, leaving the Swede-Norwerian arbitrator to stand alone. Should he fall into the view held by the Britons the United States will have to pay a heavy bill of damages and expenses, and lose control of the seal fisheries besides, not to mention the loss of international prestige.

MERCHANTS' FOOT BRIDGE The Bill Authorizing Its Construction Ha

Passed the Senate. As the bill authorizing the St. Louis & 'Mad the Mississippi river passed the Senate yes the Mississippi river passed the Senate yesterday, and has been favorably reported on in the House, it is only a matter of a few months before the Madison Transfer Co. will commence the construction of an attachment to the Merchants' Bridge, at a cost of about $700,000. The project has been considered by the company for some months past and a greater part of the sum necessary in title construction of the bridge was raised and arrangements were being made to go ahead with the work, but Maj. Rainwater thought it best to secure another charter for the attachment to the bridge, which is responsible for the delay. The attachment will be constructed on the south side of the bridge. Cylinder piers will be put in for the south side of the attachment to rest on, the north side resting on the main piers of the bridge. The bridge will be the same size in length, height and width as the Merchants' Bridge, for the accommodation of vehicles, pedestrians and street cars. As soon as the charter has been received by the St. Louis & Madison Transfer Co. work will be begun at once and pushed rapidly forward, with the hope of having the attachment completed by December of this year. The bill will come up in the House this afternoon again and Maj. Rainwater hopes to hear of its final disposition this evening from Congressmen who first introduced it.

the interest and principal of about $6,500-000 outstanding in bonds, the first issue of which was floated by the Dutch banking firm of Westerndorp & Co. at 80 per cent of the face value and 6 per cent interest, and subsequently was transferred, with the Dominican Government's consent, to the New York company.

The bonds were issued to complete and the railway from its present terminus at Bajabonico to Puerto Plata, about twelve miles, the Government to pay for the construction of this section in additional bonds to be issued. The Dominican Government gives the American company the right to operate the road for fifty years, practically going into partnership with the company and guaranteeing a minimum amount of gross receipts.

The question of popular objection to this grant was considered by the company's representatives in the light of Gen Luperon's threatened invasion from St. Thomas and the plot of Don Genekoso Marcheno. The latter was nipped in the bud by Marchena being thrown into prison. The conclusion seems to have been reached that President Hereaux, who granted the concession and signed the contract, will be able to protect the company in the enjoyment of its rights thus acquired.

According to the report current in Spain a grant of land accompanies the concession of the customs. Recent cablegrams state that the Madrid newspapers have taken up the topic. El Globo urged the Spanish Government to "oppose the American annexation of Santo Domingo," while El Tiempo advised Spain to join the Triple Alliance against France, as the latter country is supposed to be friendly to the United States.

home this morning from a trip to Cairo, whither he went last Thursday evening to officiate at a marriage ceremony. Dr. Mathews opposed the adoption of a resolution at last Monday morning's conference of the Southern Methodist ministers, to request the Evangelical Alliance to have some competent person address the alliance at an early meeting of the alliance on the subject of municipal reform in the coming city election. The resolution was an amended form of a resolution submitted by Hugh D. McCorkle in behalf of the Executive Committee of the Prohibition party and of the City Central Committee, The amended resolution was adopted by the Conference, but Dr. Mathews requested the Secretary. Rev. Felix R. Hill. Jr., to spread on the minutes of the meeting the fact that he voted in the negative. Dr. Mathews was asked by a Post-Disparch reporter to day to explain this earnest opposition of his to united political work by the ministers. "I opposed the resolution and the amended resolution because I did not believe that we as ministers had the right to connect our Church to any political party or movement. I have in my church Republicans, Democrats and Prohibitionists. I myself am a Prohibitionists, but it would be highly improper for me in my capacity as pastor and preacher to lend my aid to the advancement of any particular party. There no preacher in the city who is more earnest and emphalic in his hostility to the evils of city government than I am. As I have said twenty times in my church, I believe that a man ought to vote as well as he ought to pray or eat. I maintain that the preachers should educate their people up to the point where they will go to the primaries and vote for the cause of good government. But this educational system should never be relaxed. Now by an illustration and now by the narration of a significant incident the preacher should educate their people up to the point where they will go to the primaries and vote for the cause of good government. But we must do without the sweet breath of pastoral mplicity which was wafted into politics from Pennsylvania, and Mr. Cleveland's official family will have to get along as best it can without a truly good man of the Vanamaker type and the spiritual guidance of the Rev. Dr. Conway.

MEXICO is earnestly inviting immigrasimself to remain in the Republic for two years. With active agents either in Europe or New York it would seem that President Diaz might easily turn a large part of the American current of immigration to Mexico. There should be more than one great Republic in the New World and the immigrant must build up the second as he has built up the first.

THE pecuniary difficulties which beset Gov. McKinley were wholly due to careless generosity and do not in any wise reflect upon his integrity. His conduct under them has been in the highest degree honorable. He deserves and doubtless has the sympathy of all, but the proposition to take up a collection for him is hardly in ood taste. He is not in actual want and there is good reason to believe that a move of this kind would not be acceptable to man of his character.

THE fact that the Underground Wire Committee sent by the Senate to this city was studded with friends of the wire companies was disgracefully manifest during the investigation, but it is difficult to credit the report that the majority of the committee would endeavor to further the ends of the corporations by a palpable trick. If it should be made clear that this is the case the Senate must clear itself from the charge of indorsing such work by a summary and severe rebuke.

A GERM may now and then find its way into St. Louis water, but otherwise it is better than the water that runs to the hydrants of any other city in the Union. The man who bathes in the water of the Ohio will have chapped hands all winter, and if he drinks it his bills for cathartics and laxatives will cut far into his income but the Missouri-Mississippi mixture brings health and cleanliness wherever it flows. The country would be benefited if it were to refuse longer to drink anything but bottled St. Louis water.

JUSTICE to employes is not the only ground upon which the necessity of a law lding railroad companies liable for inuries may be urged. The adoption of such a law would be an additional safeguard for the traveling public. If the gradually reduce expenses to a minimum, for all injuries resulting from the careessness or incompetence of employes railroad managements would exercis greater care in the selection of their men. To increase this care by all possible means is in the line of sound public policy.

THE Cabinet being complete the innunerable gentlemen who have been "menioned" for a place in it may now rest easy in their minds for another four years. The entire list of them would be interesting and might well be given to the world on some day when other political intelligence is not crowding newspaper space. This is not saying, however, that some of these gentlemen would not have been both useful and ornamental in the Cabinet, and possibly superior to one or two of the appointments that have been made. The country is to be congratulated on its continuous abundance of good Cabinet material. THE report of the committee appointed to investigate the Wann disaster in which twenty-eight persons lost their lives is a caustic condemnation of the railway mangement. The officers of the road are held responsible because of their reckless disregard of the sacredness of human life in their still more reckless efforts to make large profits by employing cheap labor. The report is accompanied by a bill making corporations liable to employes for damages sustained through the incompetence or negligence of fellow servants. This is a wholesome recognition of the rights of employes as against corporations which have too long been sheltered behind an antiquated and perverted principle of law. It is to be hoped that other States will follow the example of the Illinois

Legislature in this matter. THE discussion of the Hawaiian treaty has begun in the Senate in secret session. This calls attention once more to these star chamber proceedings which have often been condemned as un-American nd un-Democratic. Many a job has been perpetrated under lock and key and the country has been helpless against Sens-

A GOOD WORD FOR THE CZAR.

A curious article in defense of Russi and its Government appears in the current Century. It is written by the Secretary of It is a pity to have so pretty a political Century. It is written by the Secretary of idyl as that involved in the report of the Russian Legation at Washington and ppointment of Mr. George A. Jenks to a it seems to be a not very cunning bid for American good will just at this juncture when a treaty with the Czar is under dis-The writer attempts to confuse the Russian people and the Russian Government and devotes much of his space to telling of the virtues of the people who deserve the friendship of Americans. There is no doubt of this. The Russians have exhibited manly qualities of the highest ion and expects every immigrant to bind order and it is just because of this that the ople of this country are so bitterly nostile to the savage government which attempts by cruel means to suppress the virtues for which we love them. The cretary begs the question on this point. He defends the persecution of the Jews by saying that they are an alien people who cannot become Russianized and are not in sympathy with the institutions of the country. This want of sympathy makes them selfish and they make a large profit out of the other subjects of Alexander. This amounts to saying that only loss can flow from devotion to the Government, and that prosperity waits upon those only who do not love the Czar or his Govern-

It may be said, as the writer hints that Russian internal affairs are no concern of the outside world. But as a matter of practical fact when the Czar pursues a policy which causes a swarm of plundered people to settle in other countries, disturbing the relations of labor and capital, upsetting social usages and deranging the whole industrial machine, it mes the business of other nations to inquire closely into the Czar's administra-

The article is couched in general terms and does not traverse any material allegation of Kennan and other writers who have denounced the Czar's system of government. It is a lame attempt to influence public opinion at a time when the Government at St. Petersburg has an ax to grind in America.

A CONTRAST.

The contrast between the closing days of the Cleveland Administration and that of President Harrison cannot but strike the observer and suggest some fruitful thought.

Four years ago there was a surplus of more than $100,000,000 in the Treasury and the task proposed by Cleveland was to reduce taxation, relieve the people of their unnecessary burdens and liberate commerce from some of its restrictions. He proposed also o introduce still more economies in the administration of the Government and ample for legitimate purposes, but which bers. He sought to keep the pension fund sacred for the maintenance or relief of real and deserving veterans and make the roll of pensioners one of honor and distinction. No rasping complications perpresed the State Department and foreign nations had no affronts or discourtesies laid up against us. When President Harrison took office he did not inherit a single vexation from his predecessor.

But what of his bequests to his succes-surplus gone, but a deficit exists in the ace of obligations unparalleled in the history of the country. The Secretary of the Treasury is engaged in a breathless attempt to sustain the Government credit and is seriously considering that most hateful of financial expedients, an increase of the interest-bearing debt. Under the Sherman law gold which is wanted is being paid out for silver notes to keep them at par and s premium on the yellow metal is looked for with shame and fear. Taxation has been enormously increased in answer to the demand of jobbers and protected interests, bounties are owing to steamship companies and sugar planters, drafts for necessary public works are postponed in order to keep a few nickels in the Treasury, while trade is hampered by a thousand burden some and costly restrictions. The pension fund has grown to colossal proportions, absorbing more than one-third of the revenues. Every camp follower and rearguard patriot has been invited to partake of the substance of a plundered people, while the decent veterans are forced to justify their decency in the face of the dishonor which has been cast upon them. A South American Republic, taunted and bullied, has been turned from friendship to enmity. England is sore over gratuitous discourtesies and slurs, while the good will of the Russian Czar has been won by disgraceful and un-American complacency. An em-basey from a band of Hawaiian tained and the people of America

MIPPING THE SPRECKELS JOB.

It would be a humiliating reflection upon the knowledge and ability of President Harrison to presume for a moment that he does not recognize fully the sound basis of the House resolution asking to be taken into his confidence and counsel in the natter of the Hawaiian annexation treaty. The veriest tyre in constitutional law knows that the proposed treaty cannot possibly be carried into effect without the consent of the House. This is recognized in the treaty itself, which refers to subsequent Congressional enactment which would be necessary to fulfill its conditions.

If the President should decline, therefore, to lay all available information with regard to the conditions involved in the people of the United States last summer treaty and the consequences which would Washington is not Albany and Cleveland is flow therefrom before the House, and thus secure its judgment upon the question in advance of any further step in the direction of annexation, he would invite still severer condemnation than his peculiar conduct hitherto has warranted. The advantage to the annexationists of having the United States committed to their scheme by the indorsement of both the President and the Senate is clear. The considerations which could then be urged against drawing out would give them a powerful lever to force the House into ompliance with their plans.

The charge of collusion in a conspiracy to entrap the United States into an unac ceptable bargain would lie against the President.

It is hardly possible that he will risk such a course. The adoption of the Tucker and Springer resolutions by the House would, therefore, be a fair assurance that the annexation movement will go no farther without fair investigation and deliberation, which is a practical assurance that the Spreckels job will be nipped in the bud.

What is needed is drastic legislation that will make it imperative on the boys to abstain perative on the boys to abstain m practices that tend to in-dere with the right performance heir duties to both employers and the blic. You know what I refer to. The betting jockey is a standing menace to fairness on the turf and as long as boys are allowed to equent the ring and put money on other orses than their own mounts there will be obs and current practices. I am decidedly in favor of a rule being adopted by all clubs prohibiting jockeys from betting while riding

"The evil is growing every year and it must curbed. The situation here is similar what it was in England sevyears ago and a rule adopted there prohibiting a jockey from betting on any horse but his own mount. Well, the same cry was heard that we have ow that the rule could not be enforced, but when several prominent riders found to their sorrow that the law could not be evaded the rule became universally respected and there vas a very great improvement in the sport, "In my opinion jockeys are paid enough to be able to live luxuriously without being obliged to bet. If the Board of Control and the Western Turf Congress were to adopt such a rule it would have the same effect in this country as a ruling of the National Jockey Club in England. I am sure horse owners would favor such legislation and the general public favor such legislation and the general public would welcome it. I hope to see the matter agitated until something is accomplished." ABOLISHMENT OF BOOKMAKING.

A New York turf authority says that the leading jockey clubs with tracks located near abolishment of bookmaking and a return to the betting methods prevalent twenty years ago. It says: "A return to the good oldned system of auction pools and mutu als may be decided upon by metropolitar track managers next year. Last season's track managers next year. Last season's experience with the bookles shook the faith of the Eastern jockey clubs. Beginning at Brooklyn in the spring over one hundred strong, the number of bookmakers dwindled to two-score less at Coney Island in September, where many popular firms were conspicuous by their absence. The attendance was light and the few pencilers engaged were at no time in danger of being driven off their boxes by would-be speculators. The ring attributed the small volume of business to the common place programme offered by the club.

At the recent annual meeting of the Coney At the recent annual meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club the question of barring the books was called up, put to a vote and lost by a majority of one only. This was an exceedingly close call for the men who claim that racing can not be successfully conducted without the book ring of to-day. Two of the four jockey clubs which compose the Board of Control tracks are said to favor the old system with modern and improved features for registering sales of mutuals. Brighton Beach has already decided to part company with the bookmakers. The approaching season its patrons will find only auction poolsy and mutuals. There will be two or more stands for the sale of auctions and mutual booths are to be scattered over the grand booths are to be scattered over the grand stand, lawn, platform and paddock. THE OAR. The Oxford and Cambridge crews began training last week. The Oxford crew is now definitely made up and is considered stronger han last year's eight. The Cambridge eight is subject to changes. The two crews will not arrive on the Thames until the 1st of March, which will give them a little over three weeks' training in London. It is understood that the Cambridge crew will be a little heavier than the Oxford eight.

SPORTING NOTES.

There is a talk of a professional sculling regatta at The Pastime foot ball team rubbed it into the Mar-naduke Academy eleven yesterday by a score of 34 5. The military boys scored by a goal kick from eld. The largest audience that ever witnessed a unph foot ball game in this city was in attendance. An English cycler, who was ruled out of a race for colliding with another contestant recently, sued the race meet managers for the value of the prize, which he claimed to have won by finishing first. The court decided, however, that he had no case, as the decisions of the referee and judges of such events are shall.

She Was Deceive 1.

Rebecca Alden called at the Prosecuting Attorney's office to-day and complained against Charles Nelson, who lives in St. Louis County. She loaned him $125 and took a chattel mortgage on some stock and other personal property. He made an affidavit that there was no other incumbrance on the property, and she states that the records show that there was another incumbrance on the property at the time. She was told to see Nelson, and if he did not right the matter, if it was as she said, to call again.

Railroad Strike Threatened.

The switchmen on the Santa Fe system and at Chicago have presented demands for an increase in wages and extra pay for over-time, and threaten a general strike this spring unless their demands are faceded to soon. The engineers of the L. & N. and of the Burlington have made similar demands, and the entire railroad outlook for the World's Fair begins to assume a serious aspect. In the East some of the lines are replacing the old switchmen with new men in anticipation of the coming trouble.

THE ACCUSED MAN WILL BE BROUGHT What a Bright and Attractive Woman

He Surrendered Himself in Chicago, and ims He Killed Thomas Healey in Self-Defense, and That the Deed Has Been Preying on His Mind-Police News in General.

A warrant charging murder in the second degree was issued to-day against Charles Green, who was arrested in Chicago yester-day, charged with being responsible for the death of Thomas Healey, who died at the City Hospital a few weeks ago. The warrant was issued by Prosecuting Attorney Dierkes over the head of Assistant Prosecu-ting Attorney Estep, who refused to issue the warrant. Healey, who was about 70 years old, lived at 612 Morgan street. He was assaulted by Green, who was at work at the Eureka House, 612 Morgan street, on Dec. 81. last. Erysipeias set in and Healey was sent to the City Hospital where he died some weeks ago. Green was held responsible by issue a warrant. Green left the city when he learned of Healey's death, but returned when it became known that a warrant against him had been refused. Coroner Frank contemplated laying the case before the jury. Green learning of this again left the city. The police decided to arrest him and make another attempt to get a warrant, and descriptions of Green were sent over the country. To-day he gave himself up in Chicago. Another attempt was made this morning to get Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep to issue warrant, but he again refused. Chief of tectives Desmond and Coroner Frank then laid the facts in the case before Prose-cuting Attorney Dierkes, who is-sued the warrant. Requisition papers for Green have been applied for and Detective James Smith will leave for Chicago to bring Green back as soon as the papers arrive from Jefferson City. The trouble between Green and Healey, it is alleged was the result of Healey coming into the Eureka House on the night of the trouble and annoying Green by turning off the gas and talking abusively to him. A quarrel ensued in which Healey was knocked down or pushed down by Green.

A telegram received from Chicago to-day says: Thomas Green of St. Louis gave himself up to the police of the Harrison Street Station to-day and said he was the man who killed Thomas Healey in Coleman's lodging-house at 611 Miorgan street, St. Louis, last month. Green claims that he killed Healey in self-defense, but that the matter had preyed upon his mind so constantly that he wishes to be taken back to St. Louis and tried. The St. Louis police have been notified to send an officer for the prisoner.

He spent the $50 and then reported at the company's office. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep said that the offence did not come under the embezzement law, but was a breach of contract.

CUT HIS THROAT

Jeptha H. Simpson, a Capitalist, Commits Suicide.

THE OLD MAN MADE CAREFUL PREPA BATIONS FOR HIS DEATH.

His Body Found This Morning in His Room at 1023 Chestnut Street-His Deed a Great Surpr se to His Friends, Although He Has Shown Signs of Men tal Depression-His Estate.

Jeptha H. Simpson, an old and wealthy widower, committed suicide some time last night in his room at 10231/2 Chestnut street. The act was done with a duil razor plied along the throat with shocking deliberation and persistence. He prepared for death as he would to retir to sleep. He undressed and donned his night robe. He put on his night-cap, an old with a string passed under the chin. He then braced the blade of the razor by wrapping s dece of cord about the part of the handle where the blade turns on a rivet. The blade was thus made as rigid as if it were a butcher-knife. The edge of the razor was nicked with many dents, so that it resembled consultation free, personally or by letter. Use 18 asaw. A foot bath-tub was drawn near to and it will bring back strength to your nerves, the bed, and simpson then lay down on his freshness to your complexion, brightness to your eyes, the bloom of health to your cheeks, elasticity when found this morning the suicide n order to have his throat above the tub. He used the razor with his left hand and cut a deep gash or rather a series of ashes, which formed one gaping wound on the right side of his throat. The jugular and the arteries were severed the old man's life blood poured in a stream into the recepticle placed pelow for the purpose.

THE BODY DISCOVERED. When Mrs. James Hodgton, who keeps the parding-house, discovered the dead body this morning, the plood-besmeared razor lay on the floor and the foot-tub contains half a gallon of blood. Simpson's care to avoid a mess was not sufficiently vigtlant for there was gore on the floor about the tub. The police were sum-moned and the Coroner's office was said that Mr. Hodgton did not want the rode his objections and took it to City Undertaker Sheehan's establishment on Eleventh and Walnut streets. The dead man formed and even robust. His face, partly covered with a long gray beard, was a familiar one. He was a solicitor for the Hope Mutual Fire Insurance Co., and had a desk in the company's offices at Third and Chestnut streets. He left the office fast evening in a cheerful mood, and had an engagement with M. R. Collins, the insurance agent for noon to-day. Mr. Simpson is believed to have been moved to suicide, signt for noon to-day. Mr. Simpson is believed to have been moved to suicide, by a wave of melancholy which swept across his ionely heart, for he was a widower, his second wife having died twenty years ago. He boarded with Mrs. Hodghton for many years across the street from her present residence, the one in which he ended his life. He went into Mrs. Hodgton's room last night about 10 o'clock and talked for some time. What he said or how he beseemed himself is not known, for Mr. Hodghton refused to allow any information about the matter to emanate from his house. One of the other boarders, however, said that Simpson was unusually depressed last evening.

The old man had no children, but has a sister named Mrs. Neal residing at 1822 Glassow avenue and a cousin named Mrs. Seeger living at 418 South Fourteenth street.

Although he was on the street every day in quest of insurance trade he did a large financial business, and leaves an estate worth $250,000. He loaned money on real estate and took risks on second mortgages, which brought him a large interest return. He was around the City Auditor's office a great deal, for he held many mortgages on property which was confiscated for street purposes and the city had to liquidate his claims out of the indemnity funds.

He is said to have stated at various times

He is said to have stated at various times that he could at any time raise $100,000 on his personal property. He was well known by Dr. Barbee and by City Treasurer Martrom D. From Mr. Henry Schmitt, Secretary of the Hope Fire Insurance Co., it was learned that Mr. Simpson was in the employ of the company for about twenty-seven years. He went to the gold fields in 1849, but soon returned to St. Louis and cultivated his farm in St. Charles County. He spent several years as a book-keeper for Warner & Cheever, prominent merchants of that day, and then he opened a commission store on Broadway He gave up this venture and went into the insurance business. His financial interests have been a very profitable side issue of his chief occupation.

CASS COUNTY BOND CASES. Gov. Stone Sends an Important Message to the Legislature.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 28 .- Gov. Stone ent in a message that caused a sensation in the two branches of the Assembly to-day. It was in reference to the action of the Fed Court in jailing the County Judges of Cass and St. Ciair Countles, growing out of the long standing bond cases. The message set forth that the judges of these counties had been confined in jail because they refused to assess the people of their counties to pay the interest on the railroad bonds issued shortly after the war. The judges held that the railroads were never built and they would not pay the bonds. Wildcat railroad bonds were the fashion at that time and Cass County, tike St. Clair, issued bonds by the hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Cass Counbonds were for the Neosh Tebo Railroad, which wa never built. The State Supreme Court sus tained the counties in their refusal to pay for railroads that were never built or even sur reyed, but the United States Supreme Court lecided that the countles should pay as the bond holders were innocent of any fraud. In his message, which will go on record as one of the most important documents of administration, Gov. Stone asks that Congress be memorialized to enact such legislation as will so limit the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts as to settle the bond cases.

He said further that the judges in these countles were between two fires. If they ordered the assessment they would trample on the State law, and if they did not do so f they did not do s hey would suffer the penalty of the Federa they would surer the penalty of the Federal Courts. While these judges are in jail and all the St. Clair County judges are now there, County affairs are neglected and tax assessments are not made in consequence. It was only recently that three Cass County judges were released. Five thousand copies of the message were ordered printed in both Hhuses.

MAYOR NOONAN'S OPINION.

The "Twenty-five Per Cent Bill" Should Be Amended. The objection raised yesterday by ex-City Counsellor Leverett Bell to the Stone street improvement bill, in which he points out a possible way in which the railway companies may evade their obligations to the city in the matter of the paving and grading of the streets along which they run, has raised a doubt of the advisability of the measure in its present form, even among its most ardent supporters. The points upon the two clauses in the bill which provide that the whole cost of the improvement shall be charged to the property adjoining and the clause abrogating all ordinances conflicting or inconsistent with the terms of the bill. The question raised is whether or not the State can abrogate contracts the city hold with the railway companies. City Counsellor Marshall holds that they cannot, while Mr. Bell incline to the opposite opinion.

When seen this morning, Commissioner Murphy, who has been an ardent supporter of the bill, and has done much active work in its behalf, expressed his inability to give an opinion upon gither side. "I am, of course, unable to discuss the legal phrase of the question," the said in answer to the reporter's questions, "as until this objection came up I never gave the matter a thought. I am still inclined to the opinion that the bill is all right as it stands and that the city has nothing to fear. Allen G. Thurman Wants to Make Silver

West Bell Place and Other Localities.

The eight new six-room flats numbered 124 to 1200 inclusive West Bell place, property of the Nicholls-Ritter Realty and Financial Co., has been sold through that firm's agency for $22,000 to Mrs. Ellen Idams and Bartlett S. Adams. Mr. Ritter says this property, occupying 75x185 feet of ground, is renting for $3,800 a year. The investment is a good one, as the property is in a first-class residence neighborhood.

Since Judge Edmonds' purchase of the southeast corner of Westminister place and Boyle avenue, where he is going to erect a handsome residence, Mr. Nicholls says three different parties have been inquiring for property in that same locality, where nearly 1,000 feet of ground has been sold within the past three or four months, each of the buyers having bought with the intention of building fine dwellings. With the exception of the making of the street and sidewalks, all the public improvements have been made, and the work is to be completed under contract at the expense of the people who have sold to the present owners.

Six months age fourteen flats, occupying 150x218 feet of ground on the south side of Easton avenue, 150 east of Newstead avenue, were purchased by Carrie S. Hewlit for $28,000. From this property, with its frontage on both Easton and Cozzens avenues, an annual rental of $3,500 a year is being collected. This income made the property attractive as a permanent investment, and the sale of it for $37,500 to Alexander Klipatrick is reported by M. R. Collins. The property is new. WITHOUT WYOMING.

The United States Senate Will Be in Control of the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.-As the situa fion is now the United States Senate, by the election of a Democrat from North Dakota, will have, after March 4, forty-four Democratic votes, which, with the vote of Vice-President Stevenson, makes the chamber Democratic, there being only eighty-eigh Senators.

The Wyoming Legislature having adjourned without electing a successor to Senator Warren, whose term will expire March 4, the question has arisen here as to the power of the Governor of the State to appoint a Sena-tor to serve until the Legislature shall meet tor to serve until the Legislature shall meet again.

Precedent appears to be against the exercise of the appointing power in such circumstances. A case in point was decided nearly one hundred years ago. George Reed, a Senator from Delaware, resigned his office in December, 1793. The Legislature met in Denary and adjourned in February without electing a Senator. On March 19, 1794, the Governor of Delaware appointed Kensey Johns to the vacancy, but the Senate, by a yote of 20 to 7, refused to seat him. The ground taken was that the failure of the Legislature to elect operated to prevent appointment by the Governor.

A second case came up in the winter of 1833-4. Jared W. Williams was appointed a Senator from New Hampshire during a restriction of the short time that produced the second case came up in the winter of 1833-4. Jared W. 1853-4. Jared W. Williams was appointed a senator from New Hampshire during a re-cess of the Legislature and took his seat. When the Legislature met an effort to elect a Senator failed, and as soon as the Legislature adjourned Williams' seat was declared va-cant, and it remained vacant until the Legis-lature again assembled and a Senator was chosen lature again assembled and a Senator was chosen.

A third case of comparatively recent date. In a complication arising in New Hampshire the Governor appointed Henry W. Blair Senator to begin a regular term. The lawyers in the Senate argued the case at great length, but Mr. Blair was finally seated by Republican votes. The following Senators voted on that occasion in support of a proposition that the Governor of a State cannot appoint a Senator to begin a regular term: Blackburn, Camden, Cockrell, Coke, Gorman, Jones of Arkansas, McPherson, Morgan, Pugh, Ransom, Vance and Vest.

These men are now members of the Senate, and Mr. Puch is the probable Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the next Senate, and Mr. Vance the probable Chairman of the Elections Committee of the next Senate will become vacant March 4, will remain vacant until filled by the Wyoming Legislature, and it is considered not improbable that when the Governor of the Sale comes to appreciate this fact he will call the Legislature together in extra session.

The Iron Trade. CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 28.—The Iron Review says of trade this week: Influences without has had more to do with the course of the from trade in the past few weeks than those from within. Producers have kept closely in touch with demand, holding themselves in readiness to take advantage of any turn for the better, so that the staple complaint of over production has not been applicable to the situation thus far in '9s. The volume of business has been fairly large, and there are numerous indications of good prospective demand. With the financial outlook and the general tendency of investors to act cautiously, as restraining influences, it can be seen that the demand materializing will have very little of the speculative element in it. showing the relative positions of each competitor up to date. On Sunday next another list will be published, which will be the last one given until the final result is announced. Collectors who wish their coupons included in Sunday's list will do well to forward them early on Friday morning. In sending in collections of coupons it is al-ways advisable to pack them as neatly as possible in order to facilitate the count and to prevent errors. Do not roll your coupons up in bundles, but preserve them as straight and flat as possible. Always state the total number of coupons sent, thus providing a check upon the count here. Wrap your coupons up securely.

As stated daily in the conditions, no pooling of votes will be allowed and any competitors found clubbing will be at once disqualified. Such an attempt cannot be kept secret, and every case will be thoroughly investigated before the final award is made. No exceptions to this rule will be made in favor of anyone. The public themselves can probably do more to prevent any such attempt and to promote fair play than anything else. Before handing your coupons to your favorite carrier ascertain his name and number and fill out the blank spaces on the ballot with the same in ink. In no case should coupons be handed to car-riers in the blank form. LIST OF CONTESTANTS.

To the Post-Dispatch: To the Past-Disnatch:

Has it occurred to you that the business men down town to almost a unit take their Post-Disparch home from their office or counting-room and that their little ones beyond a doubt satisfy their helited that their up-town carrier is the deserving one and must get one of the many handsome prizes that you are offering? You see the older sarriers, as a rule, do the hard and irksome labors of their duties down town mid smoge and much climbing of stairs and their chance for reaching the goal, the prize, is much curtailed. Should there not be one of the prize as tagice for the down town carriers? I remain, yours respectfully, R. J. OLIVER.

WAVELY, Jil., Feb. 8, 1893.—Drs. Copeland and Thompson: DEAR SIRS—I received a letter from you this morning, and in answer will say that the money I invested in your medicine was the best investment; that I ever made. My health is much better than it was when I commenced your treatment. I had fraveled through the West and South for my health before I saw you. But at present I feel like another man. Yours truly.

Eisner & Mendel-los, Agents, New York. of the bill will have inserted a qualifying clause, setting forth that the section is not intended to interfere with the responsibilities of the street railroads, under the charters granted them in the shape of ordinances.

Among the workers on the ground is A. O. Terry, a well known real estate agent from St. Louis. He says the real estate agents want the bill passed to build up the suburban property, which he says cannot be done while the 25 per cent limitation section is continued in the city charter. Discussing the matter with a Post-Disparate representative, he said.

the city charter. Discussing the matter with a Post-Disparch representative, he said:

"We do not, of course, want to relieve the street railroads of standing their share of the expense of street improvements and if the bill is legally construed that way it ought to be amended. Unless this 25 per cent limitation clause is set, aside there will be little street improving in St. Louis."

NOT REHIEVED OF LIABILITY.

J. R. Willis, a prominent street contractor from St. Louis, who is actively urging the passage of the bill, also says the street railroads are not to be relieved of the itabilities assumed in the acceptance of the oudinances under which they are operating. The interest shown in the bill by the contractors has not improved the chances of the measure to any extent in the House. The opponents of the measure besides using the street railroad argument have told the country members that the bill is a scheme to enrich the real estate agents and contractors, and that its passage will result in the confiscation of the property of thousands of poor people unable to pay the increased special taxes.

The lively interest shown by the contractors in this bill was illustrated last evening unintentionally by Representative Julius Wurzburger, who represents a South St. Louis district.

A friend asked him what he thought of the tentionally by Representative burger, who represents a South St. Louis district.

A friend asked him what he thought of the idea of assessing all the costs of improvements on adjoining property owners: he replied that he was considering the matter.

"Well, what do your constituents think of it?"

"Well, I have heard mostly from those who want it passed. Now, there is Louis Grund, he wants it."
"But Grund is a contractor who builds streets," suggested the other.
"Yes, that's so," he said, "the contractors want to get more work."

streets, "suggested the other.

The bill to tax the express companies? per cent of their gross earnings, introduced by Senator Hines, will be reported favorably with an amendment reducing it to I per cent. The express companies fought it as hard as they are fighting the Mabrey bill to give the Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners jurisdiction of such corporations. This is the bill that passed the House two years ago and falled in the Senate. It has a wide sweep in the authority it gives the board in the matter of regulating rates, and the companies don't like it.

Gov. Stone's disposition to take his time about announcing his slate is nothing short of exasperating to the candidates for the offices he has to bestow. The half dozen or more applicants for Labor Commissioner come and go with additional indorsements but they get no inside tips from the Governor and it is the same with the candidates for the Coal Oil Inspectorships, Police Commissioner, Chris Ellerbe's berth, was in the city yesterday and had a conversation with the Governor. When asked what he thought of his chances he smiled and said he hoped they were all right. He has very strong support for the place and has presented by any of the candidates for preferment. The impression is growing that if St. Louis gets anything ontside of the offices anything ontside of the offices is not saying that he will give the metropolis of the State anything of the strongest indorsements presented by any of the Candidates for preferment. The impression is growing that if St. Louis gets anything ontside of the offices anything ontside of the offices is not saying that he will give the metropolis of the State anything of the State anything best of importance. But then he is not in the habit of telling what he is going to do, so far as making selections are concerned. He has, however, said that none of the St. Louis appointments will be made until after the Legislature adjourns.

Mr. Suburb: "Rock? Good lands! You've LIQUID FUEL FOR ENGINES.

Many of the Advantages Which It Posfrom the Engineering Magazine.

The advantages which can be urged in fawor of the use of liquid fuel for steam making are many and important. First, the crude petroleum has a higher calorific power than most of the coals, weight for weight. Where a crude oil can be used from which certain of the burning compounds have not been removed by refining, it is possible to se cure a calorific power of 21,000 heat units, while the calorific power of coal may be put from 12,000 to 13,000 heat units. This means that one pound of oil is equivalent to one and ten-sixteenths pounds of coal. It is often called one and three-quarters.

Outside this fundamental and far-reaching advantage of a high-grade liquid fuel there are many practical advantages which need only to be enumerated to convince anyone of the great conveniences which is permitted by the use of liquid fuel. They are:

1. Dimnished waste of fuel from the loss of combustible with the asbes and gases.

2. A reduction in the cost of labor for handling the fuel, which is twofoid. It is possible for one man with oil fuel to take care of many more boliers than with solid fuel.

3. In cities it is a matter of convenience and economy not to provide for the disposal of ashes, which from the solid fuels amount to from 200 to 800 pounds or more to the ton, and, where the plant is large, have to be provided for by special contract outside of the usual facilities offered by the municipal government. There is no fine dust to clog fire tuces and diminish their efficiency; but this may sometimes be offset by a deposit of oil residuals in them. cure a calorific power of 21,000 heat units ernment. There is no fine dust to clog fire tubes and diminish their efficiency; but this may sometimes be offset by a deposit of oil residuals in them.

4. Where no firing tools are required less injury is done to the brickwork of the fireboxes, and grate bars do not deteriorate.

5. Repairs to the brick work of the ash pit and the boiler room floors are diminished, as the tendency to crack when heated by hot cinders and quenched by water is absent.

6. Better regulation of the fire is possible as the demand for steam may vary. This diminishes losses of heat from blowing off at the safety valve, which doubtless often amounts to a loss of 5 per cent or over.

7. The opening of the furnace doors for firing and cleaning is made unnecessary so that the boiler may be expected to suffer less from unequal expansion and contraction.

8. Where the engine room is also the boiler room the absence of dust and ashes about the machinery is of manifest advantage.

9. The absence of suiphur is favorable to the life of the boiler plate, and this is especially an advantage where there is moisure in the solid fuel, which permits the formation of an active sulphurous acid, corrosive in its character.

10. The labor of the fireman is made much formation of an active sulphurous acid, corrosive in its character.

10. The labor of the fireman is made much more agreeable, inasmuch as all the work of cleaning and the strain of standing in front of open furnace doors are done away with.

11. Aboard ship, on the locomotive and in cities it is easier to secure a combustion as nearly smokeless as a due regard for economy will permit. For war purposes smokelessness is a matter of considerable moment, inasmuch as a trailing banner of soft coal smoke will betray the presence of a steamer otherwise invisible below the horizon. In the ilocomotive there are no cinders to annoy the travelers or the train crews.

12. In the contracted fire rooms of vessels the temperature of the room can be kept lower, and in tropical latitudes the lot of the firemen will be very materially mitigated for this reason, as well as by diminishing the severity of their labor.

13. On shipboard liquid fuel can be stowed in places where solid fuel could not be put.

HE CAME . DOWN.

The Hotel Clerk Could Accommodat Him, but the Figure Was High.

From the Detroit Free Press. The know-all young man from a sprightly country town stepped up to the register in a Detroit hotel and put down his name abou the same fime the porter put down his satchel.

"I understand," he said, with a great air, "that this is the swellest hotel in town."
"That's its reputation," replied the clerk with meekness.

"Very good. That's what I'm looking for.
Now, can I get a room here?"

"Certainly. What kind of a room do you wish?"

The guest looked hurt.

"The best you have in the house, of course."

The clerk bowed acquiescence.
"John," he said to the porter, "take the gentleman's satchel to No. 12."
"By the way," inquired the gentleman, with an judifferent air, "how much a day will it be?"
"Twenty five dollars." said the clerk with will it be?"

"Aha!" he continued, "the die is cast. Your father has thrown down the gauntiet. I take it up. It is war to the knife. Look!"

Liverpool's Elevated Trolley.

This month has witnessed the completion of Liverpool's elevated electric road. A trial train was recently successfully sent over the road at a speed of twenty or thirty miles an hour, despite a heavy fall of snow. The power is generated by four horizontal compound engines of 400 horse-power each. Each train has a motor at either end, which takes the current from a steel conductor at the side of the line by means of a brush or silipper. There are thirteen stations on the line. All the signals are worked by electricity.

Kansas City Women's Husband Dis-Mrs. Joseph Bushner of Kansas City, Mo., called at police headquarters here late last night and requested Capt. Waish to help her find her husband. She stated that she left Kansas City yesterday morning with her husband, bound for Sandusky, O., where they were going to visit his parents. Upon their arrival here Bushner left his wife at the Martell House and went away, saying he would return in time to catch a train to Sandusky. As he failed to return she became apprehensive, and at a late hour decided to communicate with the police. Chief Walsh detailed officers to make inquiry for the missing man, but a search of the city failed to reveal his whereabouts. Mrs. Bushner is still in the city and unable to return home, as her husband left her without money. She stated to Chief Waish that her husband had $150, but did not give her any money when he want away. Mrs. Bushner has written to her relatives in Kansas City for funds. Federal Court Notes

In the United States Circuit Court to-day a suit was filed by E. R. Tarver, receiver of the Tuxedo Improvement Co., against Wm. H. Stevenson. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant had subscribed for 2,750 shares of the stock of the company on one occasion and on another for 1,700 shares. These shares were of the par value of $10 and but it a share had been paid. The company became insolvent and was put in the hands of a receiver. The plaintiff sues to recover the unpaid subscriptions, aggregating $40,000.

Both the district and the circuit courts will be in session on Saturday next. The Beer War Continues.

From present indications it appears the so-called beer war is on to stay and that the St. Louis breweries have come to the conclusion that enough margin can be made by selling beer at $4 per barrel. The syndicate and anti-syndicate breweries continue to sell beer at $5 per barrel with $0 per cent off instead of is with $2 per cent off. Neither side has weakened, much to the satisfaction of the retailres, who ceased some weeks ago to sell two glasses of the beverage for 8 cents, much to the dissatis-

A Fine Line of Attractions Billed for Next

At the Grand Opera-house the fine produc-tion of "Henry VIII.," given by Mme. Modjeska and her strong company, is proving exceedingly popular.

Commencing Monday, Feb. 27, Miss Fanny Davenport will play "Cleopatra," Sardou's masterpiece. During the time of Miss Davenport's vacation, many little alterations have been made and perfected by this energetic artist herself. The company has been chosen with a view of making the perform ance as complete as possible, and Miss Davenport herself has infused some new ideas into the role of the Queen of Egypt. As "Cleopatra," Miss Davenport has peculiar advantages and the public has not been slow in recognizing the splendid characterization which the American artist has given it. Not satisfied with making her own role as perfect as possible, Miss Davenport has so completed and mounted the play and so deeply studied the possibilities of its scenic display, that "Cleopatra" may be accepted as one of the most magnificent stage productions ever seen in this country. This combination of splendid scenery and lavish mounting combined with the dramatic force that Sardou has infused into the play itself, makes Miss Davenport's engagement a peculiarly attractive one. Mr. Melbourne MacDowell will assume the role of Marc Antony. enport's vacation, many little alterations sume the role of Marc Antony.

Post-Disparce press and the fish tanks, where they had on exhibition a large assortment of machines used in the canning business. There were machines which would cut green corn from the cob, clean in up, pull the slik off and throw it away. Then mix the corn with the proper proportions of syrup, etc., cook it, put it in cans in the right quantities and then close the can and seal it up.

There were machines which sealed and soldered the cans, the solder coming off a big spool of soldering lead drawn out into a wire. There were machines for pasting on labels and for cleaning off the tops of cans when they were filled. In fact, every device used in the canning industry was there, and quite an array they made. To judge from the variety of uses to which they are put, it would seem that there is very little hand work done in putting up food products in cans.

The delegates spent nearly all day looking.

At the Hagan George Thatcher's minstrels, in "Tuxedo," are playing to crowded houses.

On Sunday next the Hanlons will present their new edition of "Superba," which has undergone entire reconstruction, and is fresh from the hands of Scenic artists and stage machinists. "Superba," in its new dress, is said to be one of the best productions of scenic wonders and theatrical illusions.

The tricks are nearly all new throughout, as are also its specialties, marches, acrobatic feats, songs and dances, one of the latter being the much written and talked about "Serpentine Dance." As presented by the Hanlons, "The Serpentine" is done by five trained danseuses, upon whom are thrown the glares of as many calcium lights, the effect being a startling one.

Two new scenic transformations have been added this season.

At Pope's the "Shadows of a Great City" is well presented, and is proving very popular. On Sunday next the "Smugglers" will be presented

At Havlin's Joseph H. Wallick will present the "Bandit King" to-night. Next week the attraction will be John L. Sullivan.

The comedy-drama "Killarney and the Rhine" is the attraction at the Standard. Next week Jack McAulific and his specialty company will appear.

Miss Fay does not lay any claim to the supernatural, she simply produces the manifestations and asks the committee appointed and the audience to judge as to outside or human aid, as she will give her last seance in S.t Louis on Sunday evening next at the Grand Opera House. She asks for the fullest investigation of her experiments.

To-morrow night at the Grand Music Hall the Nordica Operatic Concert Co. will appear. The company includes such well-known artists as Mme. Lilian Nordica, Mme. Sofia Scalchi, Miss Louise Engel, Campanin, Del Puenti and Emil Fischer. On Friday night selections from the "Cavallina Rusticana" will be given, and at the Saturday matines the third act of "Faust."

The Nordica Concert Company. The Saturday matinee of the Nordica opera and concert company will conclude with the third act of Gounod's "Eaust," with the third act of Gounod's "Eaust," with scenery, costumes, etc. The company will be heard and seen at their best in this part of their appearance in St. Louis. The cast of Nordica as Marguerite, in which she won honors in London and on the continent; Mme. Scaichi as Siebel, conceded to be the greatest Siebel now living, and whose last representation in St. Louis will never be forgotten by those who witnessed it; Sig. Campanini as Faust, and Emil Fischer as Mephistopheles, in which he has no equal on the operatic stage, will make this matinee a most notable performance. This matinee a most notable performance. This matinee for the especial benefit of suburban residents and those of the neighboring cities, who will have an opportunity of seeing the best of the "Faust" opera."

The Choral Symphony Society. The final rehearsal for the orchestral con cert of the Choral Symphony Society, which is to be given to-night, at Music Hall, took place this moraing. The work done was overture and Wagner's "Flying Dutchman," the dainty ballet music by Glueck and the symphony by Tochakowski in excellent style. Miss Maud Powell, the well-known violiniste, plays the great Mendelssohn concerto and a charming mazurka by Larzijeki in a style that is captivating. Both of these compositions are accompanied by the orchestra. Lovers of instrumental music should not miss this opportunity of hearing some of the best as well as the latest works rendered in excellent style.

BANKER ENO.

His Friends Have Strong Hopes That He Will Be Pardoned.

New York, Feb. 23 .- The friends of John C. Eno, the former President of the Second National Bank, who went to Canada in 1884, after losing upward of $2,000,000 of the funds of the bank by speculating in Wall street, have strong hopes that he will be pardoned, or rather that the United States District Attorney will authorize the quashing of the Indictment.

That this is the plan at present is unquestionable, and Senator Hiscock is said to have brought the negotiations to such a point that Eno felt safe to return. Col. Bliss and other prominent Republicans are believed to have furthered the efforts of Senator Hiscock.

Similar efforts in Eno's behalf were made three years ago, among the signatures to a petition which had been circulated extensively being that of Gen. Sherman and many well-known New Yorkers. President Harrison, however, refused on Marca 9, 1891, to issue a pardon.

One of the main reasons for refusal, it was said, was that Eno was still defying the law by remaining beyond the jurisdiction of the United states courts. It was to remove this objection that Eno was induced to come back

United states courts. It was to remove this objection that Eno was induced to come back now. If the federal action against him is guashed his friends are sanguine that the charges in the State courts will be dropped. According to Eno, he does not intend to seek a residence in this country, but will continue to reside in Quebec, if possible, so that the indictments would not be likely to bother him much.

The dispatches announced the return of Enolast Tuesday. He was at once admitted to bond and the examination of the case will come up on the third Wednesday in March. It was on May 30, 1884, that young Eno fied from New York, and he was captured two days later in Montreal, Canada. Not content with a handsome salary as President of the Second National Bank, which was founded by his father, young Eno sought to make a speedy fortune by speculating in stocks. He purchased when prices were nikh and found himself foundering when a decline set in. He had then lost nearly $2,000,000, and in the vain nope of retrieving his fortune he dipped freely into the bank's funds until 5,000,000 had disappeared. He then made his father acquainted with his check for $3. The dispatches announced the return of stition. The elder Mr. Eno drew his check for $3,-500,000 and the bank directors subscribed $500,000 to make good the deficiency. When a run was started on the bank the following day Amos R. Eno deposited another million and pledged himself to advance sufficient to save its credit. In the meantime young Enowas in his elegant mansion, at No. 46 Park avenue, while four deputy sheriffs waited on the sidewalk to arrest him in civil proceedings.

was in his elegant mansion, at No. 8 I have avenue, while four deputy sheriffs waited on the sidewalk to arrest him in civil proceedings.

Only the police authorities, with a warrant, had a right to force a way into the house, but no criminal action had been instituted.

The charge that the directors of the bank had compounded a felony stirred up the District Attorney, and when the police entered the house to make the arrest the young man was not there. The edder Mr. Eno came out with a statement that he had made up the deficiency, not for the purpose of shielding his son, but in order to preserve his own honor and to protect the depositors of the bank founded by him.

With young kno at the time of his capture in hontreal was the kev. Fr. Ducey, pastor of St. Leo's Roman Catholic Church. Fr. Ducey was also arrested, but was promptly discharged. Eno sent for Mr. Dunbar, the Government Orown Prosecutor, and handed him a substantial retainer. Mr. Dunbar obtained a writ of habeas corpus, which was made returnable June 3. After hearing arguments of counsel, Judge Tessier declared that the warrant on which Eno was arrested was delective, and discharged him. Eno was immediately rearrested and another writ was obtained. The case came up again June 6. Deputy United States Marshal Holmes of New York was a witness. The case was again adjourned and the following day an indictment was found against Eno for bringing stolen money into Canada. On July 12 he was discharged on the indictment and was not extradited.

And then came tales of his princely living in Quebec. He was said to be the social leader of the city. He bought a fashionable residence and gave receptions, which were attended by the most aristocratic people of the city. He became the bosom friend of Canadian politicians and capitalists. He got inferested in two or three railroads and bought a large amount of real estate, He wentured big sums in stock deals and made lots of money.

Commissioners to Shoshon's and Arapahoes Fail to Buy Lands.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 23 .- Gen J. M feldrom is back here from the Wind River reservation with news that the commission of which he was a member was unable to make a treaty for the cession of lands back to the public domain. The other members were Judge Frank P. Sterling of Helena and N. B. Crump of Arkansas. They were at the agency a month and held five councils. The Indians in interest are Shoshones and Arapahoes to the number of 4,700, and they hold about 2,000, 100 acres of land. The whites desire for a settlement a strip of four miles, along the water ways marking the southern border of the tract. The Shoshones were willing to sell, but the Arapahoes would not hear to relinquishment. The latter offered to sell the entir northern half of the reservation, but much of that land is sterile.
